Would you like a member of Police staff or volunteer to attend your event?

Filey SNT & or Police Volunteers would like to attend some of the local events in your area to provide information on topics such as Fraud, Crime Prevention, rural safety etc. This would not be a formal presentation and we can tailor the information to each particular event.

If you are aware of any meetings taking place which you think suitable, please let us know Dates and Place and Times and we will endeavour to get to some of them. Please email matthew.hazelwood@northyorkshire.police.uk if you would like more information or to book the volunteers.

Other News

Please note that in addition to the traditional 999 or 101 we can be contacted on our email address is snafiley@northyorkshire.pnn.police.uk. Please do not report incidents to this email, but if you would like to speak to a member of our team for advice then please use it. Incidents can also be reported direct on www.northyorkshire.police.uk

If an incident of Anti-Social Behaviour occurs which you would like Police to deal with then please report this as soon as possible after the event to allow Officers the best chance to deal with the culprits. Please do not wait until next time you happen to bump into an Officer or Parish Councillor. It allows us to make connections with other incidents and deal with individuals for patterns of behaviour rather than incidents in isolation. It does not matter if no suspects have been seen or cannot be identified; we may have this reported on another nearby incident and be able to link them.

If you wish to look at crime statistics, along with stop-searches, news & events and other information for your area, then please visit www.police.uk. This website has been updated and has new sections with more detailed statistics relating to your area. There is a multitude of information on this website. You can also search for general Police advice on this website - <https://www.askthe.police.uk/content/default.mth>

Cyber Crime and Online Security

Royal Mail <lnajutlgi-carissuapnasi704751@mencintamubahagiauntukku.com>
15:20

Today, I received this email

To: undelivered-67440@parcel.info

As you can see, it looks harmless enough at first glance ... but look closer.

Look at the “sender” address, what is wrong with it? You would expect it to come from donotreply@royalmail or some such, but it does not; it comes from a completely bogus website address (underlined). And, more importantly, I’m not expecting a package from Royal Mail!!

Dear Customer

Your package could not be delivered on 16/05/2021 because no customs duties were paid (£2.99). Follow the instructions.

Dispatch Date: 16.07.2021 - 17.07.2021

Reference: 40349/842 - 32540887

Amount to be paid: £2.99

To confirm your shipment of package click the button below

Proceed Now

The “To” information is not correct either, I would expect it to say my name, possibly, but certainly not to say undelievered-67440@parcel.info! The scammers “hook” is you only have to pay £2.99 but the moment you give them all your banking details, you can say goodbye to whatever monies you have! So do not swallow the line of “proceed now” as that will take you to another part of their bogus and dangerous website (smart-touch.com.vn) for you to input your personal details so give yourself 5 minutes to have a long hard think about what you are seeing.

General Hints and Tips

Cyber criminals may contact you by email, text, phone call or via social media and they will pretend to be someone (or some organisation) you can trust.

It used to be very easy to spot scams, but sadly as time has progressed, they have got better at it so we need to be “on guard” all the time!

- ❖ Is the message claiming to be from an Authority, someone official, for example, your bank, doctor, solicitor, government department? Criminals often pretend to be important people as we are “pre-programmed” to believe those in authority.
- ❖ Is the message saying you only have a limited time to respond? Criminals often threaten you with a fine or other negative consequences if you don’t respond.
- ❖ Short Supply? Is the message staying that someone is in short supply, like concert tickets, money or a cure for medical conditions? Fear of missing out on a good deal or opportunity can make us respond more quickly that we normally would.
- ❖ Are you expecting a message? Criminals often exploit current news stories, big events, or specific times of year (like tax reporting) to make their scam seem more relevant.

How to check if a message is genuine

If you have any doubts about a message received, contact the organisation directly (don’t follow links in an email, use your own browser and type in the details) on their official website.

Remember, your bank (or any other official source) will never ask you to supply personal information via an email, or call and ask you to confirm your bank account details. If you suspect someone is not who they claim to be, hang up – contact the organisation directly. If you have paper statements or a credit card from the organisation, official contact details are often written on them.

Romance Fraud

Oh my gosh – when you are alone and feel lonely it is so easy to start trawling websites “looking for love” as we all want to be loved, don’t we and there is nothing so soul destroying as loneliness, especially in the winter months when days/nights can be dark. So, the following has been taken from the Action Fraud website and is quoted verbatim so as not to dilute the message.

What is Romance Fraud?

Romance scams involve people being duped into sending money to criminals who go to great lengths to gain their trust and convince them that they are in a genuine relationship. They use language to manipulate, persuade and exploit so that requests for money do not raise alarm bells. These requests might be highly emotive, such as criminals claiming they need money for emergency medical care, or to pay for transport costs to visit the victim if they are overseas. Scammers will often build a relationship with their victims over time.

Signs your friend or family member may be involved in a romance scam:

- They may be very secretive about their relationship or provide excuses for why their online partner has not video called or met them in person. They might become hostile or angry and withdraw from conversation when you ask any questions about their partner.
- They may express very strong emotions and commitment to someone they have only just met.
- They have sent, or are planning to send, money to someone they have not met face-to-face. They may take out loans or withdraw from their pension to send money.

How users can stay safe from romance scams:

- Be suspicious of any requests for money from someone you have never met in person, particularly if you have only recently met online.
- Speak to your family or friends to get advice.
- Profile photos may not be genuine, do your research first. Performing a reverse image search on a search engine can find photos that have been taken from somewhere, or someone, else.

It is important that no matter how long you’ve been speaking to someone online and how much you think you trust them, if you have not met them in person, it’s important that you do not:

- Send them any money.
- Allow them access to your bank account.
- Transfer money on their behalf
- Take a loan out for them.
- Provide copies of your personal documents such as passports or driving licenses
- Invest your own money on their behalf or on their advice.
- Purchase and send the codes on gift cards from Amazon or iTunes.
- Agree to receive and/or send parcels on their behalf (laptops, mobile phones etc.)

How to Report Romance Fraud

If you think you have been a victim of a romance scam, do not feel ashamed or embarrassed - you are not alone. Contact your bank immediately and report it to Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 or via actionfraud.police.uk. If you are in Scotland, please report to Police Scotland directly by calling 101.

Please be very careful when chatting to someone online – they could just be after your money, not your heart

Do not fall for scams “hook, line & sinker” – be safe, be wise online by “taking 5”.

Until next time Stay Safe out there!

Mrs Trish Colling

Community SpeedWatch
